Clinical Case
NobelReplace® Conical Connection

October, 2011
NobelReplace® Conical Connection

Dr. Roberto Villa
Oral Surgeon
Italy

Flap with augmentation
Female patient
19 years old

Implant:
NobelReplace CC RP
4.3x13mm

Surgery date:
October 2\textsuperscript{nd}, 2011

FDI POS:
Tooth 11
NobelReplace® Conical Connection

Initial clinical situation: Loss of central incisor after trauma.

Courtesy of Dr. Roberto Villa
Initial clinical situation before implant placement.

Courtesy of Dr. Roberto Villa
NobelReplace® Conical Connection

Placement of NobelReplace Conical Connection implant.

Courtesy of Dr. Roberto Villa
NobelReplace® Conical Connection

Surgical site with soft tissue graft and healing abutment in place.

Courtesy of Dr. Roberto Villa
NobelReplace® Conical Connection

Radiograph following implant insertion and temporary restoration.

Courtesy of Dr. Roberto Villa
NobelReplace® Conical Connection

Temporary restoration on implant #11.

Courtesy of Dr. Roberto Villa
Radiograph of implant and temporary restoration 4 months post-op.
NobelReplace® Conical Connection

Temporary restoration on implants after 4 months healing.

Courtesy of Dr. Roberto Villa
NobelReplace® Conical Connection

Radiograph of implant and final restoration 5 months post-op.

Courtesy of Dr. Roberto Villa
Clinical view 1 year after implant insertion exhibits excellent soft tissue outcomes.

Courtesy of Dr. Roberto Villa
NobelReplace® Conical Connection

Peri-apical 1 year after insertion

1 year follow-up.

Courtesy of Dr. Roberto Villa